Presidential Administrations

Documented Conflicts, Oversight Findings and Reported Improprieties

Independent research and editorial audit • Edition 7.1 • Evidence cutoff October 31, 2026

First administration 2017–2021 | Between-term networks | Second administration 2025–2026

Research inventory. No allegation becomes a finding of criminal misconduct merely by appearing in this document.

Executive findings and reading guide

This edition reorganizes and preserves all 219 previously indexed entries, but moves the 43 unresolved research leads to a distinct appendix. Some entries concern different aspects of the same transaction, some are methodology-only and some involve conflicting accounts; therefore 219 is not a count of proven crimes, separate incidents or culpable people.

Evidence codes: P — a cited primary record supports a limited factual proposition; R — reliable named reporting with underlying records not completely audited; M — mixed or disputed documentary support; U — open lead only. The codes are source-support classifications, NOT guilt or corruption ratings.

Audit reach: Every row received a structural/editorial screen: source ID reconciliation, link presence, grade and claim type, monetary-label review, duplicate-theme reconciliation and publication safeguards. Selected high-impact propositions received new external checks. The remainder retain earlier sourcing and are not independently re-verified line by line.

Financial method: Contract ceilings, valuations, pledges, investment flows, assets, government obligations and restitution orders are never added as if they were equivalent cash receipts. A verified government action followed by a reported donation does not prove an illegal exchange.

Approach: Both the underlying allegations and material responses are preserved. Courts, auditors, agency announcements, newsroom investigations and partisan oversight letters are separately attributed. Evidence may evolve after the cutoff.

Inventory: 230 indexed entries (P 62; R 82; M 32; U 43). 217 indexed source records. All 219 entries screened for source-link integrity. Selected cases received fresh external checks; other entries were not independently reverified line-by-line.

Legal and evidentiary definitions

P — Primary official/court record supports the narrowly described event; not a judgment of corrupt intent.

R — Named journalism or disclosed-source compilation supports a reported fact; underlying original not fully independently audited.

M — Multiple types of evidence, limitations, or contested material; do not infer guilt.

U — Unresolved research lead: not presented as a verified case.

Cases were reorganized by mechanism. Overlapping cases are cross-references or different facets and cannot be summed as separate incidents. Financial amounts are not additive.

Corrections and subsequent events

C091 | Major subsequent-event correction: DOJ rescinded the $1.776bn fund on August 2; no members, claims or disbursements occurred; initial announcement cannot be presented as ongoing appropriation.

C166 | Government financial accounting: DOGE $110.34bn reported savings are not validated cash savings; GAO found $81.1m overstated lease savings.

C164/C165 | GAO agency limitations: Do not turn missing disclosure/training or incomplete systems-control records into claims of universal misconduct or data theft.

C012 | Foreign financing: 2018 Brookfield lease approximately $1.28bn; Qatari investor presence elsewhere at Brookfield does not establish direct Qatar funding of this lease.

C134 | Criminal procedure: Cuellar spouses pardoned before verdict; underlying $600k was indictment allegation, not adjudicated receipt of bribes.

C130/C131 | Compensation and lobbying: More than $50m reported employment contract is not realized compensation; Ballard Q4-2025 $630k bank lobbying income cannot automatically be described as a pardon fee.

C173 | Pledges versus cash: Reported $333m ballroom fundraising includes commitments/installments; not all contemporaneous cash paid.

C194 | Inspection scope: 85+ contractor-related defects and 88 subsequent testing-damage spots should not be combined or all attributed to one cause.

C170 | Contested OIG allegation: Reuters reports watchdog obstruction assertion and FHFA denial; report not a personal criminal conviction.

C127 | Overlapping records: Broad open lead partly superseded by nine named reflecting-pool cases C192–C200.

C177 / C169 / C163 / C175 | Research context: Methodology and official-disclosure indexes are not accusations or unique improprieties.

Case chapters

1. Court dispositions, investigations and formal determinations

This chapter distinguishes court findings, settlements, indictments and official actions. A criminal conviction, civil judgment, negotiated settlement and allegation differ legally and are identified separately. Historical outcomes are included to explain institutional and financial context; they are not necessarily misconduct during a presidential term.

The New York civil-fraud appellate result must be described at its operative stage, including the vacated monetary award and any other surviving or disputed findings. Separate entries cover the Trump Foundation, Trump Organization tax case, Cohen and other proceedings. Avoid aggregating penalties that were vacated, settled, imposed or paid.

C001 — New York civil-fraud case [P]

Named parties: Trump; Trump Organization; Trump sons

The August 2025 intermediate appellate order vacated the $464,576,230.62 disgorgement award and counsel sanctions, while otherwise affirming the civil judgment and related relief. This is not a criminal conviction.

Financial classification: $464.58m — vacated civil money judgment

Evidence limit / response: No finding here that the vacated award remains payable.

Sources: S01

C002 — Trump Foundation misuse of charitable assets [P]

Named parties: Trump; Donald Trump Jr.; Ivanka Trump; Eric Trump

New York AG announced a $2m court-ordered payment and 19 admissions regarding misuse of foundation assets, with charity dissolution and restrictions.

Financial classification: $2m — paid civil damages

Evidence limit / response: Do not describe the settlement as criminal convictions of the children.

Sources: S54 | S55

C003 — 2017 presidential inauguration charity settlement [P]

Named parties: 2017 Inaugural Committee; Trump Hotel; D.C. government

D.C. announced $750,000 settlement resolving allegations that nonprofit inaugural funds benefited the Trump hotel. The consent order expressly denies admission of wrongdoing.

Financial classification: $750k — civil settlement

Evidence limit / response: Settlement did not establish admission of wrongdoing.

Sources: S52 | S53

C004 — Trump Organization criminal tax case [P]

Named parties: Trump Corporation; Trump Payroll Corporation

Manhattan District Attorney confirms the two Trump companies were convicted of 17 criminal counts in December 2022; January 2023 sentences imposed fines totaling $1.61m ($810k and $800k).

Financial classification: $1.61m — corporate criminal fine

Evidence limit / response: Trump was not a personally charged defendant in this corporate tax prosecution.

Sources: S73

C005 — Trump University civil settlement [R]

Named parties: Trump University entities; Trump

A federal judge finalized the $25m settlement of student class actions and a New York attorney general case in April 2018. The program had been accused of misrepresenting real-estate instruction; the settlement did not require Trump to admit wrongdoing.

Financial classification: $25m — civil settlement fund

Evidence limit / response: A settlement of disputed claims is not a judicial finding of personal criminal liability.

Sources: S76

C006 — 2024 New York falsified-records criminal conviction [P]

Named parties: Trump

A New York jury convicted Trump on 34 felony counts of falsifying business records in May 2024. He was sentenced to an unconditional discharge on January 10, 2025, meaning no prison, probation or fine.

Evidence limit / response: This New York conviction concerns concealment of a 2016 campaign-linked payment, not a finding of presidential-period bribery.

Sources: S74 | S75

C015 — Ukraine security assistance withholding [P]

Named parties: Office of Management and Budget; Ukraine; Trump White House

GAO concluded the administration withheld approximately $214m of congressionally appropriated Ukraine security aid for policy reasons in violation of the Impoundment Control Act. The dispute concerns misuse of appropriation authority rather than proven personal enrichment.

Financial classification: $214m approx. — temporarily withheld appropriation

Evidence limit / response: GAO determination is not criminal conviction of the president.

Sources: S16

C102 — Michael Cohen campaign-finance offense and 2016 hush money [P]

Named parties: Named or implied parties in source dossier, public investigations or proposed records search

On August 21, 2018 Michael Cohen pleaded guilty in federal court to campaign-finance violations and other crimes. DOJ said unlawful contributions included a total $280,000 in payments intended to influence the 2016 election, with reimbursement transactions during 2017.

Financial classification: $280k DOJ-described unlawful election-related payments — campaign-related payments, not proven presidential funds

Evidence limit / response: Cohen's plea is not a federal conviction of Trump; any related separate Trump criminal case must be reported using its own docket and subsequent appeals.

Sources: S196

C103 — Trump campaign / 2016 foreign contacts and Russia-related prosecutions [P]

Named parties: Named or implied parties in source dossier, public investigations or proposed records search

The Mueller investigation documented Russian efforts to interfere with the 2016 U.S. election and prosecutions involving individuals connected to the campaign. Mueller said the investigation found insufficient evidence to charge a broader Trump-campaign conspiracy with Russia.

Evidence limit / response: Do not assert a criminal conspiracy by Trump was established, and do not conflate individual false-statements or foreign-agent prosecutions with the separate conspiracy allegation.

Sources: S197

C219 — September 2026 immigration deportation contempt finding [M]

Named parties: DHS; federal immigration officials

September 2026 reporting describes Judge Stephanie Gallagher holding the administration in contempt over deportation contrary to multiple specific court orders.

Evidence limit / response: Specific court finding; do not automatically attribute personal contempt to cabinet member, and check subsequent appellate history.

Sources: S180

2. First-term administration ethics, public spending and oversight

First-term allegations and findings cover conflicts-of-interest disclosures, Hatch Act determinations, agency travel and procurement, foreign-linked relationships and decisions affecting oversight. Some are formal GAO, OSC or inspector-general findings; other cases remain reporting-based.

A disclosure violation is not necessarily an illegal financial benefit. Officials' explanations, repayment, office resignations, the lack of criminal findings, and unresolved inspector-general outcomes remain material.

C016 — Kellyanne Conway repeated Hatch Act violations [P]

Named parties: Kellyanne Conway; White House

The independent Office of Special Counsel found repeated Hatch Act violations and recommended removal in June 2019.

Evidence limit / response: Presidential and vice-presidential Hatch Act exemptions do not extend to staff.

Sources: S17 | S63

C017 — 2020 convention: 13 senior officials' Hatch violations [P]

Named parties: 13 first-term senior officials; federal agencies

The Office of Special Counsel documented Hatch Act violations by 13 senior Trump officials around the 2020 election; it noted enforcement limits.

Evidence limit / response: Not all conduct on White House grounds was considered prohibited.

Sources: S18

C018 — EPA administrator Scott Pruitt office booth and furnishing [P]

Named parties: EPA; Scott Pruitt

GAO compiled EPA's self-report of a statutory Antideficiency Act violation from FY2017-18 office furnishing expenses, including a $43,238.68 soundproof booth; the total was $52,407.09.

Financial classification: $52,407 — federal unauthorized obligations

Evidence limit / response: Institutional law violation is not a finding of private profit.

Sources: S20

C019 — Scott Pruitt travel first class [M]

Named parties: EPA; Scott Pruitt

EPA acknowledged an inspector-general audit estimating $123,941 in travel costs for potential recovery but publicly disputed portions of the OIG methodology.

Financial classification: $123,941 estimated — disputed questioned travel costs

Evidence limit / response: Estimated recoverable amount, not a proven payout.

Sources: S21

C020 — Treasury Secretary Mnuchin military flights [P]

Named parties: Steven Mnuchin; Treasury

Treasury OIG inquiry and reporting described military flights as legal but inadequately justified; the administration offered scheduling and security explanations.

Financial classification: $811k reported — government aircraft cost

Evidence limit / response: OIG found legality, not a personal corruption conviction.

Sources: S22 | S23

C021 — HUD secretary dining-room furnishings [P]

Named parties: HUD; Ben Carson

HUD OIG documented an appropriation-notification violation on a dining set but expressly found no evidence Carson or his wife improperly influenced the purchase.

Financial classification: $31,561 order — agency procurement obligation

Evidence limit / response: Counterfinding of no personal wrongdoing is central.

Sources: S19

C022 — Elaine Chao / family shipping interests [M]

Named parties: Elaine Chao; DOT; Chao family maritime firms

DOT inspector general investigated use of agency position in matters touching family maritime interests; House investigators released the report.

Evidence limit / response: Investigation alone does not establish criminal guilt.

Sources: S24

C023 — Wilbur Ross and related investment disclosures [P]

Named parties: Wilbur Ross; Commerce; Navigator Holdings

OGE's July 12, 2018 letter documented omissions and inaccurate statements in Secretary Wilbur Ross's ethics filings, including delayed divestitures and new short positions contrary to his ethics agreement. OGE said the Commerce ethics officer found no information of a criminal 18 USC 208 violation.

Evidence limit / response: OGE expressly reported no information contradicting Ross's assertion that errors were inadvertent; this official ethics concern is not a finding of insider trading or a criminal conviction.

Sources: S190

C024 — HHS Secretary Tom Price government travel [P]

Named parties: Tom Price; HHS

HHS Office of Inspector General audited 21 2017 official-travel trips and found 20 did not comply with federal requirements, including all 12 charter-aircraft trips; at least $341,000 in federal funds were wasted. The OIG recommendation sought recoupment of specified amounts.

Financial classification: $341k+ — audited waste of federal funds

Evidence limit / response: Official audit finding concerns federal travel compliance, not a criminal conviction of Price.

Sources: S77

C027 — Removal of independent inspectors general in 2020 [R]

Named parties: Trump administration; federal inspectors general

In spring 2020 Trump removed, demoted or replaced several inspectors general or acting IGs, including Michael Atkinson, Glenn Fine, Christi Grimm, Steve Linick and Mitch Behm. The precise legal action differed by official.

Evidence limit / response: Do not describe all five as fired from their federal jobs or infer the removals were illegal; notice rules and chronology differ.

Sources: S191

C096 — Other Scott Pruitt allegations: lobbyist housing, security, donor meetings [R]

Named parties: Named or implied parties in source dossier, public investigations or proposed records search

Scott Pruitt rented a condo linked to a lobbyist's family for $50 per night while serving as EPA administrator. EPA IG reviewed his housing arrangements and reported the investigation inconclusive after resignation, with no final finding of a legal violation.

Evidence limit / response: The rental arrangement and scrutiny are established; the inconclusive IG disposition cannot be called a substantiated corrupt bargain. Other Pruitt travel and office-booth findings are separate cases.

Sources: S194

C097 — Interior Secretary Ryan Zinke: real estate and travel reviews [R]

Named parties: Named or implied parties in source dossier, public investigations or proposed records search

Interior Inspector General reported repeated Zinke communications with developers over a foundation-connected real-estate project, identifying federal ethics breaches and lack of candor. A separate 2018 OIG travel report found some vehicle-policy violations but rejected or limited other allegations.

Evidence limit / response: DOJ declined criminal charges in the real-estate matter, per reporting; OIG found several other allegations unsubstantiated.

Sources: S78 | S79

C099 — Carl Icahn former special adviser ethanol regulation [R]

Named parties: Named or implied parties in source dossier, public investigations or proposed records search

Billionaire Carl Icahn, then a White House regulatory adviser, left that role in August 2017 amid public questions about fuel-regulation advice and his refining-related holdings. Icahn denied benefiting or having conflicts.

Evidence limit / response: Documented advisory role and departure; no basis in cited sources to assert inside trading, bribery or a criminal finding.

3. Trump business revenue, foreign governments and private investments

This section tracks financial flows through Trump-related properties, foreign-state spending, post-service investment funds and real estate projects. It deliberately distinguishes business revenue from public expenditure, reported investments, commitments, company ownership and discretionary government action.

The House Oversight Democratic staff report found at least $7.8 million of payments associated with four businesses. A different watchdog estimate is not the same measurement. The roughly $1.28 billion Brookfield/666 Fifth Avenue lease does not establish direct Qatari financing: Brookfield asserted Qatar-linked investors were not participants in that transaction's separate fund.

C007 — Congressional foreign-government payments to Trump businesses [P]

Named parties: Trump Organization; foreign embassies; state enterprises

House Oversight Democratic staff identified at least $7.8m paid by 20 foreign governments to four Trump businesses within the production reviewed; the accounting records were incomplete. The committee alleges constitutional violations; no court ruled on the merits of the emoluments disputes.

Financial classification: $7.8m+ — documented partial gross foreign-government business payments

Evidence limit / response: At least $7.8m refers to Mazars-linked records for a subset of Trump entities examined by House Oversight Democratic staff, not an all-entity, independently adjudicated total of illicit income. The staff interpretation is attributed.

Sources: S12 | S209

C008 — Expanded CREW estimate—do not merge with congressional minimum [R]

Named parties: CREW; Trump businesses; foreign governments

A separate September 2024 CREW reconstruction estimated $13.6m in foreign-government payments during the first term, using more information than the restricted congressional production. This corrects the earlier edition, which called the figure unsupported.

Financial classification: $13.6m estimated — expanded watchdog estimate

Evidence limit / response: Different scope and methodology, not additive to $7.8m.

Sources: S13

C009 — China ICBC and other foreign tenants [P]

Named parties: ICBC; Trump Tower; Trump companies

Congressional records report millions in rent and other payments from Chinese state-linked tenants; payments are commercial receipts and their existence alone does not prove official policy was purchased.

Evidence limit / response: Independent ordinary-market lease defense must be examined.

Sources: S12

C010 — Saudi, Qatar, Kuwait and other states' property expenditures [P]

Named parties: Saudi Arabia; Qatar; Kuwait; Trump properties

The House staff analysis itemizes spending at Trump properties by officials or representatives of numerous governments, with varying amounts and purposes.

Evidence limit / response: These are multiple distinct counterparties, not one coordinated scheme.

Sources: S12

C011 — Secret Service lodging at Trump properties [P]

Named parties: U.S. Secret Service; Trump hospitality businesses

Congressional records document more than $1.4m in U.S. Secret Service expenditure at Trump-owned properties over the period it reviewed, with room rates exceeding government rates on at least 40 occasions.

Financial classification: $1.4m+ — taxpayer hospitality spending

Evidence limit / response: Protection duties required presence; excessive rates are separate fact question.

Sources: S14 | S69

C012 — Kushner/666 Fifth Avenue Brookfield transaction [R]

Named parties: Kushner Companies; Brookfield; Qatari investors

In August 2018 Brookfield entered a 99-year prepaid lease for Kushner Companies' 666 Fifth Avenue office tower, reportedly valued at approximately $1.28 billion. Its listed real-estate arm had Qatar Investment Authority involvement, but Brookfield publicly said a separate fund financed the transaction without Qatar-linked participation.

Financial classification: ~$1.28bn reported — prepaid private office-tower lease; NOT proven Qatar investment

Evidence limit / response: Do NOT call this proven direct Qatari financing or quid pro quo; ultimate funding documentation was not independently obtained.

Sources: S69 | S186 | S187

C013 — Ivanka China trademark applications [R]

Named parties: Ivanka Trump brand; Chinese trademark authorities

Chinese government trademark-office data reported by AP show Ivanka Trump-linked companies received multiple first-trial and final trademark approvals in 2017–2019; at least 16 new preliminary approvals were reported in October 2018.

Evidence limit / response: Provisional approval is not the same as final registration; applications predated some decisions. No evidence here proves Chinese officials granted a favor in return for U.S. policy.

Sources: S188 | S189

C028 — Kushner Affinity Partners Saudi PIF capital [P]

Named parties: Jared Kushner; Affinity Partners; Saudi PIF

House Oversight records describe a $2bn Saudi PIF investment committed months after Kushner left office, despite investment-staff objections, generating significant potential fees. The capital is an investment in an investment firm, not necessarily Kushner's personal cash receipt.

Financial classification: $2bn — PIF investment commitment

Evidence limit / response: No bribery adjudication; institutional investment rationale contested.

Sources: S15

C029 — Steve Mnuchin / Liberty Strategic Capital Gulf funding [R]

Named parties: Steve Mnuchin; foreign sovereign investors

2022 reporting based on Saudi investment-fund documents described approximately $1 billion invested by Saudi PIF in former Treasury Secretary Mnuchin's Liberty Strategic Capital, a separate transaction from Kushner's Affinity funding.

Financial classification: ~$1bn reported — Saudi PIF investment in private fund; NOT personal receipt

Evidence limit / response: Investment capital committed to a management firm is not a $1bn personal payment; terms, fees, investment rationale and the full contract were not independently audited.

Sources: S69 | S192

C042 — Thirteen new foreign development announcements after 2024 election [R]

Named parties: Trump Organization; Dar Global; foreign local partners

CREW counted 13 new foreign development announcements in nine countries between reelection and Sept 2026, with two subsequently cancelled. This is a count of announcements, not completed deals or personal net profits.

Financial classification: 13 announced — project count not cash

Evidence limit / response: Report includes promoter claims and projects in different stages.

Sources: S41

C043 — Qatar golf development via sovereign-linked partner [R]

Named parties: Trump Organization; Qatari Diar; Dar Global

CREW and reporting identify a Qatar Trump-branded resort involving a state-linked real-estate partner.

Evidence limit / response: Public/private joint venture does not prove an improper official act.

Sources: S41 | S42

C044 — Vietnam Trump-branded real estate and government approvals [R]

Named parties: Vietnamese developers/government; Trump brand

CREW describes Vietnam local-government relocation and expedited development steps involving a Trump project while tariff negotiations proceeded.

Evidence limit / response: Vietnam has legitimate development and trade policy arguments.

Sources: S41 | S42

C045 — Saudi, Oman, UAE, India and other branded ventures [R]

Named parties: Trump Organization; Dar Global; other developers and state-linked landowners

CREW's 2026 foreign development register identifies numerous project announcements and legacy projects ongoing during the second term.

Evidence limit / response: Do not treat total project development costs as Trump family revenue.

Sources: S41 | S64

C046 — Serbia and Australia proposals subsequently cancelled [R]

Named parties: Trump Organization; foreign developers

CREW records two foreign project plans as subsequently cancelled; the cancellations are important when assessing claimed deal flow.

Evidence limit / response: Exclude from completed-deal totals.

Sources: S41

C172 — Trump sons meetings with foreign officials and business portfolio [R]

Named parties: Donald Trump Jr.; Eric Trump; foreign officials; Trump businesses

Financial Times reported at least 18 meetings between Trump sons and foreign leaders/senior officials since Jan 2025 and expanding interests in crypto, critical minerals, defense and property. Representatives describe meetings as private, not government diplomacy.

Evidence limit / response: Meeting counts alone do not prove government policy was traded; distinguish business contact from official action.

Sources: S110

4. Crypto, financial markets and regulatory relationships

Crypto offerings, family-linked tokens, foreign investments, regulatory retrenchment, and banking decisions raise questions about overlapping official authority and financial interests. Any argument that favorable treatment was exchanged for payments requires further transaction-level evidence.

Do not confuse a Form D maximum offering with actual sales; do not equate MGX's $2 billion Binance investment settled in USD1 with a payment of $2 billion to the Trump family. The pardon of Binance founder Changpeng Zhao is discussed once in the clemency chapter through cross-reference.

C030 — World Liberty Financial 2024 SEC offering notice [M]

Named parties: World Liberty Financial; listed promoters

An October 2024 issuer Form D reported a $288,501,188 target offering but only $2,703,786 sold as of the notice. These are not equal measures.

Financial classification: $288.5m offer / $2.704m sold — issuer-reported offering vs sales

Evidence limit / response: Prior audit field check, not newly downloaded XML in this pass.

Sources: S02

C031 — World Liberty 2025 SEC amended offering [M]

Named parties: World Liberty; Trump and Witkoff-linked promotional entities

July 2025 amended Form D reportedly lists $52.13m sold under the covered domestic offering and $50.71m of gross proceeds used for payments to related persons. It does not apportion that entire amount to Trump or any individual.

Financial classification: $52.13m sold — issuer-reported US offering receipts

Evidence limit / response: Limited reporting scope; do not sum with unrelated crypto income.

Sources: S03

C032 — Reported Trump 2025 cryptocurrency income [R]

Named parties: Trump; World Liberty; $TRUMP coin ventures

Reuters attributed more than $1.4bn of 2025 crypto income to Trump's disclosed 2025 annual financial report. Crypto ownership proceeds, gross receipts and net personal earnings require distinct accounting.

Financial classification: $1.4bn+ reported — reported disclosure income

Evidence limit / response: Do not double count SEC offering gross proceeds.

Sources: S07

C033 — Meme-coin dinner for large holders [R]

Named parties: Trump; $TRUMP token holders; foreign wallets

Reuters and the Washington Post described an investor-access dinner where the top token holders gained access to the president. Sources estimate large token holdings and fees, not necessarily direct payments of those amounts to Trump.

Financial classification: $148m estimated attendee token holdings — tokens acquired by participants—not a payment to Trump

Evidence limit / response: Foreign ownership estimates use wallet analytics with limitations.

Sources: S39 | S40

C034 — Justin Sun investment alongside SEC pause [R]

Named parties: Justin Sun; Tron; World Liberty; SEC

Washington Post reported that Sun invested in World Liberty and that the SEC case against him was put on hold after the administration took office. No source here establishes a corrupt bargain.

Evidence limit / response: No proof of quid pro quo from sequence alone.

Sources: S40

C035 — Reported 49% UAE-linked stake in World Liberty [R]

Named parties: Aryam Investment 1; UAE Sheikh Tahnoon-linked investors; World Liberty

Reporting describes a $500m arrangement for 49% of the venture signed days before inauguration; senators later asked whether CFIUS review was appropriate.

Financial classification: $500m reported — private equity purchase

Evidence limit / response: No CFIUS violation has been established.

Sources: S08 | S09

C036 — MGX–Binance USD1 stablecoin settlement [R]

Named parties: Abu Dhabi MGX; Binance; World Liberty USD1

In May 2025 World Liberty Financial co-founder Zach Witkoff publicly announced the USD1 stablecoin was selected to settle Abu Dhabi-backed MGX's $2 billion investment in Binance; Reuters independently reported the announcement.

Financial classification: $2bn investment in Binance — third-party investment settled with USD1; not issuer revenue

Evidence limit / response: The $2 billion purchase was of Binance equity, not World Liberty equity or direct Trump-family proceeds. USD1 reserve interest/fees require separate evidence; settlement mechanism and economic benefits are distinct.

Sources: S193

C037 — DOJ digital-assets enforcement retrenchment [P]

Named parties: DOJ; crypto exchanges; digital-asset investors

The April 7, 2025 deputy attorney general memo directed policy changes, case review and discontinuation of certain regulatory enforcement theories. The memo states its own substantive rationale.

Evidence limit / response: A general policy change does not by itself establish preferential benefit to one company.

Sources: S37

C038 — Crypto.com investigation and Trump Media agreement [R]

Named parties: Crypto.com; Trump Media; SEC

AP reported a federal probe of Crypto.com ended and the firm later entered a major commercial partnership with Trump Media. The deal structures and corporate interests are a case-specific potential conflict.

Financial classification: roughly $1bn assets reported — third-party joint venture assets—not Trump cash

Evidence limit / response: Company and regulators cite independent business and legal reasons.

Sources: S38

C040 — Changpeng Zhao presidential pardon [M]

Named parties: Changpeng Zhao; Binance; DOJ

Original dossier records the October 2025 pardon; DOJ's official register is the primary route to verify the date, recipient and scope. The connection to the USD1 Binance transaction is a question for documentary review.

Evidence limit / response: A pardon and a transaction cannot be collapsed into a proven exchange.

Sources: S26 | S70 | S207

C041 — World Liberty Trust Company charter [M]

Named parties: OCC; World Liberty Trust Company; affiliated persons

OCC decision index records Corporate Decision 1385, August 2026, concerning World Liberty Trust Company. The prior audit describes preliminary conditional approval, not necessarily an active bank charter.

Evidence limit / response: A charter review result is not evidence of favoritism by itself.

Sources: S05

C058 — SEC Chairman Paul Atkins and prior digital-assets consulting [R]

Named parties: Paul Atkins; Patomak Global; SEC

The 2026 ProPublica disclosure corpus records extensive past financial-industry relationships of senior appointees; any actual conflict requires a specific matter and recusal analysis.

Evidence limit / response: Past employment is not misconduct by itself.

Sources: S29

C059 — Hundreds of officials' crypto asset holdings [R]

Named parties: Trump appointees; cryptocurrency companies

ProPublica reported more than 200 appointed officials and spouses with between $175m and $340m in cryptocurrencies at the time of disclosure. Aggregate valuation is not profits and the range is not necessarily current.

Financial classification: $175m–$340m — aggregate disclosed holdings range

Evidence limit / response: No implication that each of these officials violated ethics laws.

Sources: S30 | S71

C060 — Formaldehyde assessment ties to chemical industry [R]

Named parties: EPA scientists; chemicals trade association

ProPublica reported two senior EPA scientists involved in revising the formaldehyde assessment had previously worked in senior industry-association roles; EPA said ethics advice authorized their work.

Evidence limit / response: Prior industry employment does not equal scientific misconduct.

Sources: S30

C061 — Jeffery Hildebrand/Hilcorp donations and methane rule [R]

Named parties: Hildebrand; Hilcorp; EPA; former lobbyist

ProPublica reported major political giving, appointment of a former Hilcorp lobbyist to an EPA position and methane-rule rollback negotiations.

Evidence limit / response: Rationale and causal influence remain disputed.

Sources: S33

C062 — FCPA criminal-enforcement pause [P]

Named parties: Trump; DOJ; multinational business interests

Executive Order 14209 directed a pause and review of Foreign Corrupt Practices Act enforcement to change priorities. Such a general enforcement decision may benefit firms facing FCPA risk, but case-specific favored treatment requires evidence.

Evidence limit / response: Executive order documents an action, not a corrupt motive.

Sources: S04

5. Clemency and third-party influence

The clemency chapter includes grants and commutations, named recipients, reported lobbying efforts, donations and professional intermediaries. Official warrants establish clemency acts; they do not by themselves establish an unlawful exchange. A commutation is not a pardon.

The Henry and Imelda Cuellar full pardons were signed December 2, 2025; their underlying indictment was not a trial verdict. Ross Ulbricht received a pardon; Garnett Gilbert Smith and Larry Hoover received federal commutations. The reported Alina Habba–Herrera Velutini $50 million employment terms are disputed and are not proof that compensation was paid or that a pardon was bought.

C025 — Manafort, Flynn, Stone and other first-term clemency [P]

Named parties: Trump; first-term campaign associates

DOJ lists clemency grants for presidential associates, including several tied to campaign or executive investigations. Grants are official acts; connection to a financial exchange requires additional evidence.

Evidence limit / response: Clemency is constitutional presidential power; use cannot alone prove corruption.

Sources: S25

C026 — Elliott Broidy pardon and foreign lobbying prosecution [P]

Named parties: Elliott Broidy; DOJ; Trump

DOJ's first-term clemency register includes Elliott Broidy, identified with conspiracy to serve as an unregistered foreign agent.

Evidence limit / response: Pardon does not establish that it was bought.

Sources: S25

C064 — Second-term clemency patronage and advocacy network [R]

Named parties: Trump; lobbyists; recipients; donors

A Reuters investigation identified a large network of clemency advocates, including politically connected intermediaries; DOJ maintains an official continuously updated clemency register.

Evidence limit / response: Neither seeking nor granting clemency alone establishes a bribe.

Sources: S27 | S26

C065 — Paul Walczak pardon and family fundraiser [M]

Named parties: Paul Walczak; Elizabeth Fago; Trump

DOJ officially lists a Walczak pardon; advocacy research describes his mother's participation in a high-dollar event shortly beforehand. In this pass the fundraising payment was not independently checked in donor filings.

Evidence limit / response: Claim of purchased pardon is unproven.

Sources: S26 | S34

C066 — Trevor Milton financial-fraud pardon and political support [P]

Named parties: Trevor Milton; Nikola; donors/advocates

DOJ lists the pardon of former Nikola executive Trevor Milton after his federal fraud conviction. Reuters details advocacy access for recipients, but no direct payment-for-pardon finding is shown here.

Evidence limit / response: Pardon does not vacate historical jury verdict.

Sources: S26 | S27

C067 — Scott Jenkins bribery conviction pardon [P]

Named parties: Scott Jenkins; Trump; clemency advocates

DOJ register lists a May 2025 pardon of former sheriff Scott Jenkins following convictions including bribery involving federal programs.

Evidence limit / response: Pardon is not evidence president accepted a bribe.

Sources: S26

C068 — Tim Leiweke pardon and inaugural gift [M]

Named parties: Tim Leiweke; Oak View Group; clemency advocates

Campaign Legal Center reports Oak View Group donated to the inauguration and Leiweke later obtained clemency; the corporate donation must be independently reconciled to FEC and DOJ records.

Financial classification: $250k alleged — reported inauguration contribution

Evidence limit / response: Advocacy report, not a quid-pro-quo finding.

Sources: S34 | S26

C130 — Alina Habba, Concord Partners and Julio Herrera Velutini pardon [M]

Named parties: Alina Habba Mildon; Isabela Herrera; Julio Herrera Velutini; Concord Partners; President Trump; DOJ

The New York Times reported a four-year general-counsel agreement offered to Habba for $10 million annually plus bonuses, guaranteeing more than $50 million under the contract, while she was a government official/adviser and a Herrera family member was seeking clemency. Florida records confirm Concord Partners LLC was formed 22 Oct 2025 with Isabela Herrera as manager. Habba began work 1 Jan 2026; DOJ records confirm a 15 Jan 2026 pardon and a 20 Jan amended grant. The reported contract is not an established total of cash actually received.

Financial classification: >$50m reported contractual guarantee over four years — reported private employment contract; NOT a verified payment and NOT a bribe

Evidence limit / response: NYT sources suspected connection; Habba denied any role, said DOJ vetted/disclosed her job, DOJ stated she did not speak to anyone about a pardon, White House said she had nothing to do with it. No adjudicated link or finding Habba initiated a pardon scheme.

Sources: S80 | S81 | S82 | S216

C131 — Ballard Partners and Bancredito lobbyist fees [P]

Named parties: Ballard Partners; Chris Kise & Associates; Bancredito Holding Corporation; White House Office

An official federal lobbying registration identifies Ballard Partners as retained by Chris Kise & Associates on behalf of Bancredito Holding Corporation, effective Nov 2025. The official 2025 Q4 lobbying report lists $630,000 in lobbying-related income and White House Office contacts for banking regulatory restrictions and requirements. The filing does not identify the work as pardon lobbying.

Financial classification: $630,000 (2025 Q4) — federal lobbying report income for banking issues, not verified pardon payment

Evidence limit / response: Campaign Legal Center summarized this engagement as $600,000; the underlying official Q4 report lists $630,000. Use the primary figure, do not add two amounts.

Sources: S83 | S84

C132 — Isabela Herrera political support while father sought pardon [R]

Named parties: Isabela Herrera; pro-Trump super PAC; Julio Herrera Velutini

The New York Times reported that Isabela Herrera, a U.S. citizen and daughter of Julio Herrera Velutini, donated $3.5 million to a Trump-aligned super PAC while her father sought clemency. Campaign Legal Center separately alleged a $2.5 million ballroom contribution and sought inquiry into the true source of PAC funds. Neither donation alone proves the pardons were purchased.

Financial classification: $3.5m reported super PAC giving; $2.5m additionally alleged ballroom giving — reported political donation / additional watchdog allegation; different recipients

Evidence limit / response: Individual donor listed as U.S. citizen. Foreign-national source-of-funds concern is an advocacy inquiry, not established illegal foreign giving.

Sources: S80 | S86

C133 — Trump reportedly sought share of Habba employment compensation for presidential library [R]

Named parties: Trump; Alina Habba Mildon; Herrera family; Trump-related presidential library

The New York Times reported on 29 Oct 2026 that Trump told advisers and allies that Habba should donate some compensation from the Herrera family contract to his future presidential library or another Trump-related entity, and that the Herrera family should not pay the remaining contract. He reportedly called Habba, but no evidence in the cited reporting establishes that he demanded a donation directly, that Habba agreed, or that money was transferred.

Evidence limit / response: Do not state Trump obtained a donation, received the entire contract amount, or directly directed an illegal payment. Distinguish this follow-up story from the initial clemency timeline.

Sources: S85

C134 — Henry and Imelda Cuellar federal pardons [P]

Named parties: Rep. Henry Cuellar; Imelda Cuellar; Trump

DOJ lists both pardons under Dec 2, 2025, publicly announced Dec 3. DOJ May 2024 indictment alleged approximately $600,000 in bribes tied to Azerbaijani state-controlled energy and a Mexican bank; neither defendant was convicted. Trump attributed prosecution to alleged political retaliation, while post-pardon loyalty comments and FOIA litigation raised further process questions.

Financial classification: $600,000 alleged — indictment allegation (not proven)

Evidence limit / response: Do not describe indictment allegations as convictions or imply a purchase of clemency.

Sources: S87 | S88 | S89 | S90 | S118 | S207 | S208

C135 — Joseph Schwartz pardon and $960,000 lobbying disclosure [M]

Named parties: Joseph Schwartz; Jack Burkman; Jacob Wohl; White House

DOJ lists November 2025 pardon; reporting identifies $960,000 reported paid to lobbyists advocating for pardon following payroll-tax convictions. White House denied their access to White House counsel or pardon czar and disputed efficacy of the lobbying.

Financial classification: $960,000 — reported lobbying fee to third parties

Evidence limit / response: Disclosed payment to lobbyists does not document payment to Trump or show a successful lobbying contact.

Sources: S87 | S93 | S94

C136 — David Gentile sentence commutation and intermediary fees [M]

Named parties: David Gentile; unnamed Trump-connected intermediary

DOJ lists November 26, 2025 commutation of federal fraud sentence. A House Judiciary Democratic staff investigation, citing reporting, alleges an intermediary was paid $2.5m to intercede; precise payment trail and effect on $15.5m forfeiture require independent court-record verification.

Financial classification: $2.5m reported — reported intermediary fee

Evidence limit / response: Commutation is not the same as a full pardon, and financial obligations must be checked against the warrant and court docket.

Sources: S87 | S92 | S117

C137 — Adriana and Andres Camberos pardons and victim restitution [M]

Named parties: Adriana Camberos; Andres Camberos; victims

DOJ lists January 15, 2026 pardons with judgments listing approximately $48.824m in restitution. Congressional Democratic staff assert pardons relieved large restitution and forfeiture; financial consequences require case-specific court/legal review.

Financial classification: $48.824m court-listed — restitution on sentencing record, not a cash receipt

Evidence limit / response: Do not treat restitution listed in the original sentence as confirmed forgiven in full without examining vested victim rights and order.

Sources: S87 | S92

C138 — Carlos Watson and Ozy Media commutations [P]

Named parties: Carlos Watson; Ozy Media; victims

DOJ lists March 2025 commutations after securities and wire-fraud convictions; the register lists a $36.77m restitution order for Ozy. Congressional staff argue penalties were affected; no assumption that $37m was fully extinguished.

Financial classification: $36.77m listed — sentencing restitution amount

Evidence limit / response: Verify actual restitution disposition and effects of any commutation separately.

Sources: S87 | S92

C139 — Jason Galanis second-term commutation [P]

Named parties: Jason Galanis; House Republican investigators

DOJ lists March 2025 commutation of federal securities/investment-fraud sentences with large restitution obligations. Congressional staff describe his role as a witness in Biden investigations; no causal inference established.

Financial classification: $37.0m/$47.8m listed — two court restitution entries (not additive without docket audit)

Evidence limit / response: Separate proceedings and possible overlap; grant is verified, motive unproven.

Sources: S87 | S92

C140 — Eliyahu Weinstein first-term clemency and later fraud [M]

Named parties: Eliyahu Weinstein; advocates

House Judiciary Democratic staff and outside reporting describe first-term commutation following prominent advocacy and new fraud leading to later imprisonment. Check first-term DOJ index and new conviction dockets before claiming individual attorneys were paid or knowingly enabled a new offense.

Evidence limit / response: Later misconduct does not itself prove an illegal original clemency decision.

Sources: S92 | S98

C141 — BitMEX founder and corporate Bank Secrecy Act pardons [P]

Named parties: Arthur Hayes; Benjamin Delo; Samuel Reed; Gregory Dwyer; HDR Global Trading

DOJ confirms March 27, 2025 pardons for individuals and HDR Global Trading in Bank Secrecy Act cases. Congress alleges regulatory and fine consequences; neither a political payment nor causation is established in DOJ grants.

Financial classification: $100m corporate fine originally listed — criminal corporate fine at sentencing

Evidence limit / response: Do not equate the original corporate fine with money paid to the Trump family.

Sources: S87 | S92 | S207

C142 — Adam Kidan pardon and earlier political contributions [M]

Named parties: Adam Kidan; Jack Abramoff association; Trump-aligned committees

DOJ lists July 3, 2026 pardon for 2005 fraud case; Campaign Legal Center cites more than $270,000 in 2024 pro-Trump contributions. Donations and grant are distinct documented events; no illicit agreement established.

Financial classification: $270,000+ reported — aggregate political donations before pardon

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S87 | S112

C143 — Glen Casada and Cade Cothren political corruption pardons [P]

Named parties: Glen Casada; Cade Cothren; Tennessee officials

DOJ lists Nov 7, 2025 pardons for former Tennessee legislative figures sentenced in public-corruption/fraud matters. Journalistic review places them within politically connected clemency patterns; direct exchange not shown.

Evidence limit / response: Their underlying federal convictions were not equivalent to a finding that the presidential grants were sold.

Sources: S87 | S101

C144 — Michele Fiore wire fraud pardon [P]

Named parties: Michele Fiore; Trump; memorial donors

DOJ lists April 23, 2025 pardon for former Nevada official on conspiracy/wire fraud charges involving memorial-donation funds; the court record and pardon status differ from unproven allegations about pardon motives.

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S87 | S92 | S101

C145 — George Santos commutation, not pardon [M]

Named parties: George Santos; Trump

Reuters October 2026 examined public officials receiving relief, including former Representative George Santos. This entry distinguishes the commutation of a sentence from a full pardon and requires exact warrant/docket for fine and restitution effects.

Evidence limit / response: Do not describe a sentence commutation as expungement of guilt or conviction.

Sources: S101 | S87

C146 — Rod Blagojevich commutation followed by pardon [P]

Named parties: Rod Blagojevich; Trump

DOJ first-term commutations list February 2020 relief and second-term register lists a February 10, 2025 pardon. Reporting also identifies subsequent lobbying. These are distinct official acts across administrations, not evidence of a purchased pardon.

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S87 | S98 | S101

C147 — Devon Archer fraud conviction pardon [P]

Named parties: Devon Archer; politically connected financial investors

DOJ lists March 25, 2025 presidential pardon following securities fraud case. ProPublica examined prosecutions initiated under the first Trump administration later reversed through clemency in his second term.

Financial classification: $43.4m listed — sentencing restitution; treatment requires docket check

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S87 | S99

C148 — Former Honduras president Juan Orlando Hernandez pardon [P]

Named parties: Juan Orlando Hernández; Trump; international lobbyists

DOJ lists December 1, 2025 pardon for a former president convicted in the United States of cocaine-trafficking conspiracy; congressional staff highlighted the case in assessing clemency intermediaries. An official pardon is documented, but no specific corrupt payment shown in this source set.

Evidence limit / response: Criminal guilt in underlying trafficking case differs from whether the decision to pardon involved illegal influence.

Sources: S87 | S92

C149 — Former Tennessee senator Brian Kelsey pardon [P]

Named parties: Brian Kelsey; federal prosecutors; Trump

DOJ lists March 11, 2025 pardon following a federal conviction for election-finance offenses. This is an official action involving a public officeholder; sources do not prove pardon sales.

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S87 | S101

C150 — Troy Lake and Elite Diesel corporate Clean Air Act relief [M]

Named parties: Troy Lake; Elite Diesel Service; EPA head Lee Zeldin

DOJ confirms Elite Diesel pardon in February 2026; October 9 congressional letters ask whether Administrator Zeldin interceded on behalf of Troy Lake after intermediaries requested help. That is a congressional inquiry, not an official finding of improper influence.

Evidence limit / response: Congressional letter says Lake individual and company received clemency; obtain separate individual grant and date before precise assertion.

Sources: S87 | S96

C151 — RFK Jr. reported role in Trevor Milton pardon [M]

Named parties: Trevor Milton; HHS Secretary Robert F. Kennedy Jr.; pro-Trump committees

Reuters reported Trump credited Kennedy with advocacy for Milton, who had supported political groups. October congressional letters sought correspondence and highlighted reported $750,000 donation to a MAHA-linked PAC. Advocacy and donations do not independently establish quid pro quo.

Financial classification: $750,000 reported — reported political PAC donation, not an HHS payment

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S91 | S96 | S87

C152 — Mo Strategies pardon-lobbying retainer [R]

Named parties: Mo Strategies; Blessinger Legal; Marty Obst

CBS reported Mo Strategies, associated with former campaign officials, disclosed $500,000 income for immigration/pardon lobbying for legal client Blessinger Legal. No successful pardon or illegal purchase is established by the retainer.

Financial classification: $500,000 disclosed as reported — registered lobbying receipt to third party

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S93

C153 — Burkman and Wohl contested rapper pardon retainer [R]

Named parties: Jack Burkman; Jacob Wohl; Torence Hatch

CBS reported an arbitration demand from the rapper seeking return of $600,000 allegedly paid for pardon advocacy; lobbyists contested the agreement and claim. No successful clemency shown in the cited account.

Financial classification: $600,000 disputed — alleged up-front private advocacy payment

Evidence limit / response: Allegation under dispute; arbitration is not an adjudication that the fee was wrongfully retained.

Sources: S95

C154 — Reuters 290-influencer clemency network analysis [R]

Named parties: Brett Tolman; Roger Stone; Alice Marie Johnson; other intermediaries

Reuters analyzed thousands of records and 80+ interviews, identifying 290 advocates, 624 advocacy efforts and 197 successful bids. Its figures concern analyzed advocacy, not 624 distinct pardons or proof that the intermediaries were all paid. White House disputed characterization of process.

Financial classification: as much as $2m fee (reported upper end) — reported potential intermediary charge, not aggregate income

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S91

C155 — 2020 election federal pardon proclamation covering listed allies [P]

Named parties: Giuliani; Meadows; Powell; fake elector participants

November 7, 2025 proclamation names scores of people in conduct related to 2020 presidential-elector activities. Federal presidential pardon cannot erase state crimes, and many named people had no federal charges.

Evidence limit / response: Do not say it dismissed state indictments or assume pardon recipient guilty of a federal offense.

Sources: S100 | S116

C156 — January 6 broad federal clemency proclamation [P]

Named parties: Trump; January 6 defendants

January 20, 2025 grant covers substantial January 6 cohort. Inclusion is political and institutional accountability issue, but not evidence each recipient engaged in corruption or bribery.

Evidence limit / response: Covers charges and convictions of diverse types; not every recipient has same offense or culpability.

Sources: S87

C157 — First-term Charles Kushner presidential pardon [P]

Named parties: Charles Kushner; Jared Kushner; Trump

DOJ lists December 2020 pardon of Charles Kushner, father of presidential adviser Jared Kushner, for historical tax fraud and witness-retaliation offenses. Family relationship and timing are documented; bribery is not established.

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S97

C158 — First-term Chris Collins and Duncan Hunter clemency [P]

Named parties: Former Reps. Chris Collins; Duncan Hunter; Trump

First-term DOJ pardon register lists former Republican representatives Chris Collins and Duncan Hunter in cases concerning financial or campaign-fund misconduct. Treat individual warrants and legal outcomes separately.

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S97

C159 — First-term Steve Bannon pardon [P]

Named parties: Steve Bannon; Trump

DOJ first-term pardon register includes Steve Bannon in federal fraud-related charges. The federal pardon was granted before trial, so no conviction may be inferred in that case.

Evidence limit / response: Charging instrument is not a conviction; distinguish subsequent state litigation if discussing Bannon.

Sources: S97

C160 — First-term Elliott Broidy pardon network and foreign lobbying [P]

Named parties: Elliott Broidy; foreign actors; Trump

DOJ pardon lists Broidy among recipients; original C026 already documents core act. This addition flags transaction-by-transaction assessment of foreign lobbying, intermediaries, campaign giving and clemency advocacy rather than inferring a purchased pardon.

Evidence limit / response: Cross-reference C026; not a new, distinct underlying clemency grant.

Sources: S97

C161 — Former Indiana councilman pardon lobbying by Blagojevich [R]

Named parties: Rod Blagojevich; former Indiana official

Reuters found Blagojevich later registered for $50,000 in help seeking a pardon for a former Indiana official. This records an intermediary lobbying business and does not establish that the client received clemency.

Financial classification: $50,000 reported — reported lobbying fee to former official

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S101

C162 — Clean Air Act collective pardon cluster, July–October 2026 [P]

Named parties: Clean Air Act defendants; corporations; EPA

DOJ grant index lists multiple individual and corporate Clean Air Act pardons July 3, Sept 3 and Oct 13. The cluster merits a standardized EPA-referrals and donor/intermediary audit, rather than treating the grouped recipients as a single bribery case.

Evidence limit / response: No conclusion that enforcement policy was sold; exact grant type and all named people must be cross-checked against official list.

Sources: S87 | S207

C163 — Public-official clemency selection dataset and methodology [R]

Named parties: Elected/appointee pardon recipients across terms

Reuters reviewed at least 85 public-official clemency recipients and reported partisan distribution; its findings measure recipients selected for its investigation and do not establish motive in each grant.

Evidence limit / response: Clemency dataset methodology/reference; not proof that an individual pardon was unlawful.

Sources: S101

C176 — First-term to second-term DOJ prosecution-to-pardon pattern [R]

Named parties: DOJ officials; recipients; Trump

ProPublica identified at least a dozen second-term clemency acts affecting matters originally prosecuted in the first Trump administration. This matters to a term-by-term narrative but does not by itself prove any individual grant improper.

Evidence limit / response: Grant, donation, or relationship alone is not proof of a quid pro quo or criminal misconduct.

Sources: S99

C177 — Clemency grant-vs-commutation legal taxonomy [P]

Named parties: DOJ Office of Pardon Attorney

DOJ lists pardons and commutations separately and notes standard process. This entry provides an audit guardrail: courts, criminal convictions, civil judgments, forfeitures and restitution must not be assumed erased identically.

Evidence limit / response: Legal classification reference only; not a case of misconduct.

Sources: S115 | S120

C178 — Ross Ulbricht — January 21, 2025 full presidential pardon [P]

Named parties: Ross William Ulbricht; President Donald Trump; Libertarian and cryptocurrency clemency advocates

The signed Justice Department warrant establishes a full and unconditional pardon for Ulbricht following his 2015 Silk Road convictions. During the 2024 campaign, Trump promised Libertarian audiences a commutation, but signed a pardon instead. The underlying court imposed a $183,961,921 forfeiture order; the warrant is not evidence that this amount was received, forgiven in full, or returned in 2025.

Financial classification: $183,961,921 — historical 2015 judicial forfeiture amount; NOT verified 2025 private payment or financial gain

Evidence limit / response: Established conviction, pardon and campaign promise are not evidence of bribery or an illicit payment. The financial treatment of any remaining forfeiture requires docket review; do not count the historical forfeiture as a 2025 monetary gift.

Sources: S121 | S122 | S123 | S130 | S207

C179 — Garnett Gilbert Smith — May 28, 2025 federal commutation (not pardon) [P]

Named parties: Garnett Gilbert Smith; President Donald Trump; White House; U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Maryland

Signed DOJ warrant commuted Smith's federal sentence to time served with no further fines, restitution, supervised release or other conditions. His 2014 cocaine-conspiracy sentence was 25 years; prosecutors reported seizures totaling approximately $6.7 million in that case. The White House later cited rehabilitation and 75+ educational or vocational programs as its justification. No independently verified pay-to-play relationship was located in this search pass.

Financial classification: $6.7 million — 2014 approximate assets seized according to prosecutors; NOT 2025 benefit

Evidence limit / response: Calling this action a pardon is incorrect; a commutation leaves conviction intact. Assets seized in 2014 are NOT thereby proven returned by the 2025 warrant. The 2014 prosecutor release and 2025 clemency index differ in reported post-custody supervision details; obtain sentencing docket for reconciliation.

C180 — Larry Hoover — May 28, 2025 federal commutation and remaining state sentence [P]

Named parties: Larry Hoover Sr.; President Donald Trump; Illinois criminal-justice authorities

A signed DOJ warrant commuted Hoover's federal sentence to time served. Reporting confirms he remained subject to an independent Illinois state murder sentence after federal clemency; there was no federal pardon of the state conviction.

Evidence limit / response: The pardon/commutation distinction and continuing state sentence are essential. Public celebrity advocacy is not itself evidence of unlawful influence; potential paid intermediaries remain unverified.

6. DOJ, acting officials and independent oversight

This chapter covers DOJ leadership, acting and interim officials, improper appointment findings, prosecutorial discretion, agency inspector-general disputes and court supervision. A court invalidating an appointment is not a conviction of the appointee.

Todd Blanche was sworn in as attorney general August 10, 2026 after acting service. The proposed $1.776 billion Anti-Weaponization Fund was rescinded August 2 and never operated, according to the signed DOJ order. Other oversight controversies, including Epstein-related proceedings and the FHFA inspector-general dispute, must preserve parties' denials and procedural status.

C047 — 2025 inspector general firings and OGE oversight changes [R]

Named parties: White House; inspectors general; OGE

ProPublica reports the removal of 17 inspectors general and the head of OGE in early 2025; this weakens the monitoring environment but does not establish any underlying financial crime.

Evidence limit / response: No assumed criminal finding against all appointing officials.

Sources: S30

C048 — 2025 ethics pledge rescission [R]

Named parties: White House; federal appointees

ProPublica reports rescission of the Biden ethics pledge that restricted appointees' handling of former lobbying clients.

Evidence limit / response: Pledge rescission did not eliminate all federal ethics laws.

Sources: S30

C063 — Cabinet officials, former lobbyists and undisclosed clients [R]

Named parties: Cabinet; trade groups; regulated industries

ProPublica's disclosure project identifies former private-sector clients and lobbying links among many appointees, some unnamed. These relationships warrant a searchable conflict map.

Evidence limit / response: Do not generalize an impropriety finding to thousands of appointees.

Sources: S29 | S30

C069 — Tom Homan prior sting and DOJ closure [R]

Named parties: Tom Homan; DOJ; FBI

Reuters reported anonymous sources describing a 2024 FBI cash sting and a 2025 decision to close the inquiry; Homan and officials denied criminal wrongdoing and DOJ said it found no credible evidence.

Financial classification: $50k alleged — unproven sting payment allegation

Evidence limit / response: Do not describe Homan as convicted or charged with bribery.

Sources: S28

C091 — DOJ Anti-Weaponization Fund / IRS lawsuit settlement [P]

Named parties: Trump family plaintiffs; DOJ; IRS; fund applicants

DOJ announced a proposed $1.776 billion Anti-Weaponization Fund on May 18, 2026 in connection with settlement of Trump family IRS litigation. On August 2, 2026 acting Attorney General Todd Blanche signed an order rescinding the fund. The rescission explicitly said that no members were appointed, no funds transferred, no claims procedure established and no claims paid. The plaintiffs were to receive an apology, not damages under the announced settlement.

Financial classification: $1.776bn initially announced; $0 transferred into rescinded fund (per DOJ order) — rescinded proposed federal fund; NOT a disbursement

Evidence limit / response: The original announcement is superseded. Do not describe the fund as existing, disbursing money, or as money paid to Trump. DOJ defended the proposed arrangement; legal disputes about the settlement should be described separately.

Sources: S06 | S202 | S217

C170 — FHFA inspector-general access dispute under Bill Pulte [R]

Named parties: FHFA; Director Bill Pulte; agency Inspector General

Reuters Oct 30 reported OIG complained FHFA withheld records needed for at least three reviews and sharply reduced watchdog funding. FHFA disputed obstruction and asserted substantial cooperation.

Evidence limit / response: Reuters based its report on FHFA IG assertions; FHFA specifically denied obstructing the watchdog and said it had completed 56 document requests and 16 meetings. A final adjudicated obstruction finding was not identified.

Sources: S108 | S214

C171 — DOJ internal watchdog staffing and judge misconduct allegations [R]

Named parties: DOJ Office of Professional Responsibility; DOJ inspector general

Reuters August 2026 reported extensive staff departures in DOJ internal oversight offices as judges criticized specific DOJ litigation conduct. Different judicial findings and allegations require docket-specific separation.

Evidence limit / response: Workforce decline and judicial criticism are not blanket proof every DOJ case was manipulated.

Sources: S109

C181 — Todd Blanche chronology and recusal advice [M]

Named parties: Todd Blanche; Department of Justice; Donald Trump

Todd Blanche previously represented Trump in criminal matters, became Deputy Attorney General in March 2025, later acted as Attorney General, and was sworn in as Senate-confirmed Attorney General on August 10, 2026 according to DOJ. These relationships may present recusal questions, but neither the legal representation nor the appointments themselves establish an ethics violation.

Evidence limit / response: For dates after August 10, 2026 do not describe Blanche as the acting attorney general; distinguish office chronology from separate allegations concerning conduct.

Sources: S132 | S133 | S206

C182 — Blanche oversight of Epstein records and Maxwell interview/transfer [M]

Named parties: Todd Blanche; Ghislaine Maxwell; DOJ; BOP

Senate oversight questioned Blanche's meeting with Ghislaine Maxwell, subsequent prison transfer and DOJ release/redactions. Blanche testified that redaction mistakes occurred and were corrected; the department published interview material.

Evidence limit / response: Senators' questions and timing do not prove an exchange or transfer ordered by Blanche. Preserve Blanche's explanation and check BOP records.

Sources: S134 | S135 | S136

C183 — Alina Habba interim U.S. attorney appointment [R]

Named parties: Alina Habba; Pam Bondi; DOJ

A federal district judge ruled in August 2025 that Habba was exercising U.S. attorney duties without lawful authority after her interim appointment expired.

Evidence limit / response: The administration disputed the ruling and pursued appeals; distinguish the invalid-appointment dispute from the distinct Herrera Velutini clemency/contract allegations.

Sources: S141

C184 — New Jersey successor trio appointment challenge [R]

Named parties: New Jersey DOJ leaders; Pam Bondi

In March 2026 a federal court held the replacement trio heading the New Jersey U.S. Attorney office was serving unlawfully after the Habba dispute.

Evidence limit / response: A court ruling concerning appointment authority, not a conviction of the officials; the order was stayed pending potential appeal.

Sources: S143

C185 — Lindsey Halligan unlawfully appointed and indictments set aside [P]

Named parties: Lindsey Halligan; Pam Bondi; James Comey; Letitia James

A federal judge concluded Halligan's appointment as interim U.S. attorney in Virginia was invalid and dismissed the Comey and James indictments without prejudice in November 2025.

Evidence limit / response: Dismissal rested on prosecutor appointment authority, not the merits; the DOJ disputed the ruling and appellate status must be updated.

Sources: S140

C186 — Sigal Chattah disqualified in Nevada prosecutions [P]

Named parties: Sigal Chattah; Pam Bondi; Ninth Circuit

The Ninth Circuit upheld the disqualification of Chattah as putative acting U.S. attorney in three Nevada cases, finding the post-vacancy first-assistant approach was invalid.

Evidence limit / response: Appeals decision about service/authority, not finding of bribery and not a blanket dismissal of underlying cases.

Sources: S138

C187 — John Sarcone NY grand jury subpoenas quashed [P]

Named parties: John A. Sarcone III; Letitia James; DOJ

The Second Circuit affirmed August 21, 2026 that Sarcone was not lawful acting U.S. attorney and that the blanket delegation of U.S.-attorney powers could not avoid the Federal Vacancies Reform Act; subpoenas to NYAG were quashed.

Evidence limit / response: Specific court ruling, not proof that any investigated person was guilty or that Sarcone received money. Government sought further review.

C188 — Bilal Essayli October 2026 de facto prosecutor ruling [R]

Named parties: Bilal Essayli; Justice Department; Central District of California

A judge ruled October 27, 2026 that Essayli was unlawfully acting as de facto U.S. attorney and disqualified him from two cases. The judge stayed the order and did not dismiss those indictments.

Evidence limit / response: Specific two-case relief and pending appeal matter; do not exaggerate into all cases invalid or a criminal finding.

Sources: S137 | S182

C189 — Kari Lake USAGM acting-CEO authority [P]

Named parties: Kari Lake; U.S. Agency for Global Media

A March 7, 2026 federal district opinion held that Kari Lake could not lawfully serve de jure or de facto as acting CEO under the vacancies law and appointments clause.

Evidence limit / response: Appointment merits were contested; assess final remedy and appeal. It does not prove personal enrichment.

Sources: S142

C190 — Ed Martin disciplinary charges related to Georgetown letter [M]

Named parties: Edward R. Martin Jr.; D.C. Office of Disciplinary Counsel

Professional disciplinary authorities filed ethics charges in March 2026 concerning Martin's Georgetown Law letter while he was interim U.S. attorney; Martin also later served as pardon attorney and left DOJ in August 2026.

Evidence limit / response: Formal disciplinary accusation, not final finding of unethical conduct. Earlier unrelated D.C. bar inquiry had been declined and must not be conflated.

C191 — Emil Bove and allegations of advice to disobey deportation orders [R]

Named parties: Emil Bove; Erez Reuveni; DOJ

Whistleblower Reuveni alleged Bove encouraged defiance or evasion of federal court orders during March 2025 immigration proceedings. News organizations reported internal messages connected to the allegations.

Evidence limit / response: Allegation by named former DOJ attorney, not established criminal violation; Bove and administration contested charges. Bove left DOJ after confirmation to federal judiciary.

7. Procurement, private vendors and government projects

Federal awards, contract modifications, political relationships, private corporate interests and contractor performance are investigated without assuming a defective project proves bribery. This chapter includes defense, DHS, VA, minerals and the Lincoln Memorial Reflecting Pool.

Atlantic Industrial Coatings' $14.7 million reflecting-pool project faced an inspection documenting 85-plus coating defects. Prosecutors dismissed a vandalism case when documents pointed to faulty installation; the contractor separately maintained that some areas were vandalized. Distinguish primary contractor, subcontractors and installation/testing-related defects; no kickback has been proved by these records.

C049 — Pentagon Cerberus-linked contracts and deputy defense secretary [R]

Named parties: Steve Feinberg; Cerberus-affiliated firms; DoD

ProPublica found at least four Cerberus-owned firms among early Golden Dome awardees while former Cerberus chief Stephen Feinberg was deputy defense secretary; he disclosed divestment with limited continuing relationships for services.

Evidence limit / response: Divestment and ethical advice are relevant mitigating information.

Sources: S30

C050 — 1789 Capital and Vulcan Elements financing [R]

Named parties: Donald Trump Jr.; 1789 Capital; Vulcan Elements; DoD

ProPublica reported a Trump Jr.-linked fund invested months before a $620m conditional Pentagon loan, with White House pressure alleged; investors and company said the fund did not secure the loan.

Financial classification: $620m — conditional governmental loan

Evidence limit / response: Loan is to Vulcan, not an equivalent personal payment to Trump Jr.

C053 — Musk's government role alongside SpaceX, Tesla and xAI interests [M]

Named parties: Elon Musk; DOGE; SpaceX; Tesla; xAI

A Senate minority memo estimated Musk companies faced about $2.37bn in potential liability and oversight scrutiny, and lawmakers sought records on his agency powers. The $2.37bn is potential exposure, not a forgiven fine.

Financial classification: $2.37bn estimated — hypothetical exposure to liabilities

Evidence limit / response: Political minority-staff estimate, no legal finding of relief.

Sources: S35 | S61

C054 — DOGE access to sensitive competitor and agency information [R]

Named parties: DOGE officials; Musk-affiliated companies; federal agencies

Washington Post reporting identified broad access to agency information in at least seven departments; existence of access is distinct from proof the data was used commercially.

Evidence limit / response: Competitive benefit remains a hypothesis without misuse evidence.

Sources: S36

C055 — Starlink, xAI and agency procurement contacts [M]

Named parties: Musk companies; FAA; GSA; federal contracting officers

The Campaign Legal Center's tracking report makes allegations regarding Starlink and Grok integration and Musk's agency role. Those claims require underlying contract and communications verification.

Evidence limit / response: Advocacy organization characterizations are attributed, not adopted.

Sources: S34 | S61

C082 — TikTok US sale and government fee [R]

Named parties: TikTok US venture; MGX; Oracle; Silver Lake; U.S. Treasury

Reuters reported a proposed roughly $10bn fee paid by joint-venture investors to the U.S. government, with some paid on closing. This is government revenue, not Trump family income.

Financial classification: $10bn reported total — government fee, not personal income

Evidence limit / response: Potential policy and deal-process question, not direct enrichment assertion.

Sources: S49

C087 — Venezuela oil deal / Alejandro Betancourt [R]

Named parties: NABEP; Alejandro Betancourt; U.S. government; Venezuela

Reuters reported a U.S.-backed arrangement involving 17 oilfields and a 35% U.S. equity interest in the parent of NABEP. Betancourt was investigated over alleged money laundering but not charged, per reporting.

Evidence limit / response: Investigated is not convicted; 64bn barrels resource estimate is not revenue.

Sources: S50 | S51

C107 — PPP approvals and administration-affiliated business beneficiaries [R]

Named parties: Named or implied parties in source dossier, public investigations or proposed records search

ProPublica's July 2020 analysis of federal PPP loan records found that companies with ties to Trump family members and associates had been approved for up to approximately $21 million in assistance.

Financial classification: up to ~$21m approved — PPP company loans; not proven fraud or personal receipts

Evidence limit / response: Approval is not evidence of fraud, and corporate borrowing is not necessarily personal income of connected individuals; loan forgiveness must be separately documented.

Sources: S198

C167 — Lutnick family-linked USA Rare Earth / Cantor financing scrutiny [M]

Named parties: Howard Lutnick; Cantor Fitzgerald; USA Rare Earth; Commerce

July 2026 congressional letter raises concern that Commerce agreement with USA Rare Earth—reportedly $1.6bn—could benefit Cantor, managed by Lutnick adult sons. Lawmakers requested records; no adjudicated ethics violation established here.

Financial classification: $1.6bn announced — government-private agreement amount, not Lutnick family income

Evidence limit / response: A congressional allegation is not a government adjudication; benefits to Cantor must be traced independently.

Sources: S105

C168 — Commerce senior staff financial interests / lobbying ties [R]

Named parties: Howard Lutnick; senior Commerce officials

Public Citizen reviewed 112 financial disclosures and estimated over one-quarter of senior officials exhibited apparent conflicts of interest; primary disclosures should be consulted per individual.

Evidence limit / response: Advocacy group categorization is not an agency finding; recusal and divestiture terms matter.

Sources: S107 | S106

C169 — ProPublica financial records of 2,326 appointees [R]

Named parties: President; cabinet; executive appointees

ProPublica indexed 2,326 appointees and 5,996 disclosures, updated Oct 29 2026. Asset ranges are not proof of conflicts; database creates systematic route for individual and agency reviews.

Financial classification: $30–74bn assets (database range) — disclosed asset ranges across officials, not illicit profit

Evidence limit / response: Personnel disclosures database is a discovery tool, not a list of misconduct.

Sources: S106

C192 — No-bid reflecting pool contracts — Atlantic Industrial Coatings and Greenwater [M]

Named parties: Atlantic Industrial Coatings; Green Water Solutions/Greenwater Services; DOI; Doug Burgum

Interior awarded April 2026 no-bid contracts for pool waterproofing and water systems: reporting and Senate oversight identify approximately $14.7m for Atlantic and $1.7m for Greenwater, compared with initial total estimates around $1.5–2m.

Financial classification: $14.7m + $1.7m — separate reported federal contract awards/ceilings; not cash paid to president

Evidence limit / response: Separate awards; do not assume funds fully paid or total cost equals corruption. Procurement justification and independent cost estimate require verification.

Sources: S149 | S150 | S210 | S211 | S212

C193 — Atlantic Industrial Coatings acknowledged material/application failures [M]

Named parties: Atlantic Industrial Coatings; DOI; Rhino Linings

Government/contractor documentation described improper primer coverage and use of incompatible lining materials; DOJ later said widespread damage likely resulted from hurried, flawed installation rather than vandalism.

Evidence limit / response: The contractor characterized flaws as localized and warranty-repairable and separately claimed roughly 175 linear feet of vandalism, disputed in context by prosecutors. No court adjudicated contractor fraud or responsibility for each affected area.

Sources: S149 | S150 | S151 | S185 | S210 | S211 | S212

C194 — Independent inspection found 85+ defects [R]

Named parties: Atlantic Industrial Coatings; Atlantic Coating Inspection; DOI

Washington Post reporting on the contractor-commissioned August 2026 inspection found at least 85 defects attributable to flawed Reflecting Pool liner installation. The inspection separately documented 88 additional locations damaged during Army Corps testing; those must not be attributed to the contractor as independent original defects.

Evidence limit / response: Inspection results concern construction performance, not proof of corrupt contract award or bribery. Atlantic disputed some alleged vandalism-related damage and offered warranty work.

Sources: S152 | S210 | S211 | S212

C195 — Trump golf club general manager's involvement in procurement/design [R]

Named parties: Donald Trump; David Schutzenhofer; Doug Burgum; private suppliers

Reporting based on government records describes David Schutzenhofer, manager of Trump's Bedminster golf club, advising on the coating plan and helping recruit a vendor. Trump made inconsistent public descriptions of his prior familiarity with contractors.

Evidence limit / response: Schutzenhofer's involvement raises governance and procurement questions, not proof he obtained a personal benefit. White House said Trump had no personal relationship with the prime contractor.

Sources: S153 | S154

C196 — Mid-America Industrial Coatings participated as subcontractor [R]

Named parties: Mid-America Industrial Coatings; Atlantic Industrial Coatings

The Washington Post identified Mid-America Industrial Coatings as a subcontractor providing coating labor to Atlantic Industrial Coatings.

Evidence limit / response: Subcontracting participation does not establish Mid-America designed the disputed coating materials or caused specific defects.

Sources: S155

C197 — Brown Construction Services monitoring and missed schedule [R]

Named parties: Brown Construction Services; Atlantic Industrial Coatings; National Park Service

Court-filing reporting describes a Brown Construction Services monitoring employee warning that the prime contractor was behind schedule while the liner application encountered weather delays and material shortages.

Evidence limit / response: Brown was a project monitor, not shown to be a defective-coating installer; do not call the firm responsible for the coating failure.

Sources: S157

C198 — New American Ag Energy reported water-treatment award [R]

Named parties: American Ag Energy Inc.; DOI; NPS

NBC reported a separate approximately $2.7m federal award to American Ag Energy for repair/maintenance of water-treatment equipment after the initial pool renovation.

Financial classification: $2.7m — reported new water-treatment contract award, not proven loss

Evidence limit / response: Do not add $2.7m mechanically to total expenditures without checking dates, line items, and overlaps. Contractor wrongdoing is not established.

Sources: S156

C199 — DOI disclosures and unsuccessful vandalism prosecutions [M]

Named parties: Doug Burgum; Jeanine Pirro; Interior Department; David Hearn

DOJ prosecutors moved to dismiss felony charges against David Hearn after receiving contractor and agency evidence pointing to installation failures; prosecutors faulted Interior for incomplete disclosure. Trump and Burgum continued to assert vandalism as a factor.

Evidence limit / response: Prosecutors' stated failure-of-disclosure findings do not prove an official knowingly lied; distinguish unrelated damage to nearby grass from liner failure.

Sources: S149 | S150 | S210 | S211 | S212

C200 — Sika declined rushed paint proposal [R]

Named parties: Sika; American Concrete Services; government project advisers

CNN reported that Sika, contacted indirectly about resurfacing the pool, regarded the short deadline and blue-color requirement as unfeasible and declined involvement.

Evidence limit / response: Sika did not receive the reported award and is not a defendant or implicated contractor.

Sources: S158

C201 — Noem DHS advertising — direct contractor and politically connected subcontractors [R]

Named parties: Kristi Noem; Tricia McLaughlin; Corey Lewandowski; Strategy Group; Safe America Media; People Who Think

ProPublica reported that a $220m emergency procurement campaign went to Safe America Media ($143m) and People Who Think ($77m); Strategy Group worked as a politically connected subcontractor and later said its compensation was $226,137.17.

Financial classification: $220m prime awards; $226,137.17 claimed subcontract payment — distinct prime award totals vs subcontractor reported receipts

Evidence limit / response: The $220m figure refers to aggregate prime awards, NOT Strategy Group compensation. DHS said it did not select subcontractors; McLaughlin described a recusal. As of March 2026 Noem was removed as secretary.

Sources: S159 | S160 | S183

C202 — Corey Lewandowski procurement approval authority and disputed testimony [R]

Named parties: Corey Lewandowski; Kristi Noem; DHS

ProPublica reported internal DHS documentation showing Lewandowski had approved contracts, contrary to Noem's testimony denying he had a role in contract approval.

Evidence limit / response: Discrepancy is investigative reporting; neither perjury nor intentional deception judicially established.

Sources: S160

C203 — DHS aerial fleet and Daedalus Aviation pricing questions [M]

Named parties: Kristi Noem; William Walters; Daedalus Aviation; Markwayne Mullin; DHS

October 2026 Senate inquiry cited reporting about reported $464m in 10 aircraft and last-day procurement modifications, including Daedalus-related aircraft and past political giving by its chair.

Financial classification: $464m — reported aggregate 2025 aircraft procurement, not established financial loss

Evidence limit / response: Senators' reported valuations and donor linkage are not proven contract corruption. Need contract modifications, fair-value appraisal and statement of work.

Sources: S162

C204 — Salus Worldwide Solutions aviation procurement controversy [R]

Named parties: Salus Worldwide Solutions; DHS; Kristi Noem; Rob Law

Axios reported procurement controversy around Salus purchases for removal flights and luxury jets; company said government review rated its bid best and DHS said contracting was fair and lawful.

Evidence limit / response: Contract awarded and contested process documented by reporting; no final finding of illegal award.

Sources: S163

C205 — DHS inspector general review of Noem and Lewandowski contracts [R]

Named parties: Kristi Noem; Corey Lewandowski; DHS OIG

ABC reported April 2026 that DHS inspectors general were probing department contracts and Lewandowski's influence, with records-retention requests.

Evidence limit / response: Reported inquiry, not completed inspector-general finding or criminal charge.

Sources: S164

C214 — Energy officials and Liberty Energy/API links [R]

Named parties: Chris Wright; senior Energy officials; former Liberty Energy and API staff

Public Citizen July 2026 identified five senior DOE officials with past work at Liberty Energy and multiple administration officials tied to American Petroleum Institute.

Evidence limit / response: Past industry employment and legal recusal strategies are potential conflict indicators but not unlawful as such; verify individual Form 278e and waivers.

Sources: S174

C215 — Steve Feinberg/Cerberus continuing administrative links [R]

Named parties: Steve Feinberg; Cerberus; Defense Department

ProPublica's appointee ethics-documents review found Feinberg reported divestment from Cerberus but continued permitted tax/healthcare-accounting arrangements, raising oversight questions alongside defense contracts.

Evidence limit / response: Disclosure is not proof Feinberg improperly participated in decisions regarding Cerberus. The earlier C049 covers contracts; this adds recusal verification.

Sources: S173

C216 — Pam Bondi brother Brad Bondi and affected DOJ clients [R]

Named parties: Pam Bondi; Brad Bondi; DOJ; former Trevor Milton client

Reuters reported lawmakers sought IG review of AG Bondi recusals in cases involving legal clients of her brother Brad Bondi, including the pardoned Trevor Milton.

Evidence limit / response: DOJ said decisions followed proper channels and Bondi had no role in the decisions at issue. Congressional requests do not prove conflict-law violation.

Sources: S175

C217 — Doug Collins VA contracts cancelled and savings disputed [R]

Named parties: Doug Collins; DOGE; Department of Veterans Affairs

Senate Veterans Affairs Democratic staff report alleged cancellations of about 2,000 contracts, expiry of 14,000 more, and overstated purported savings; VA statements disputed that services for veterans would be affected.

Evidence limit / response: Staff report is partisan committee evidence; independent GAO or contract-by-contract audit and VA response necessary before treating dollar totals as established.

Sources: S176

C218 — Doug Collins concurrent VA and acting ethics office role [R]

Named parties: Doug Collins; Office of Government Ethics; House Oversight

House committee minority raised concerns in February 2025 that Collins led VA while also serving as acting Office of Government Ethics head, creating possible self-oversight issues.

Evidence limit / response: A congressional criticism of governance arrangement, not an adjudicated ethics violation; check exact effective dates and delegation safeguards.

8. Political contributions, media settlements and state-linked benefits

Ballroom financing, media settlements, political contributions, donations to related nonprofits, state-linked diplomatic gifts and complex political finances are described as reported transactions, not automatic proof of influence purchasing.

An October 2026 obtained donor spreadsheet reportedly contained about $333 million in ballroom gifts and commitments, some paid in installments. That amount is not equivalent to all funds already received, nor does it prove donors received favorable government action in exchange.

C070 — White House ballroom private contributors [R]

Named parties: Trump White House; Trust for the National Mall; corporate donors

Washington Post's October 2026 investigation describes about $333m in donor commitments from 67 sources, including at least $77m whose contributors requested anonymity. Pledges are not all cash paid.

Financial classification: $333m committed — private donation commitments

Evidence limit / response: Article explicitly found no proof payments caused favorable decisions.

Sources: S43 | S44 | S213

C071 — Ballroom donors with federal contract exposure [R]

Named parties: Lockheed; Booz Allen; Palantir; other contributors

Public Citizen and Washington Post identified corporate donors that also received federal contract awards; figures are contract awards/commitments, not proof of reciprocal favors.

Financial classification: $50bn+ asserted awards — aggregate government contract awards

Evidence limit / response: Award date and amount do not establish causality.

Sources: S45 | S60 | S213

C072 — Nvidia/Apple ballroom donations amid regulation [R]

Named parties: Nvidia; Apple; U.S. policy authorities

Post's obtained donor spreadsheet reports $25m pledges by Nvidia and Apple; both firms have regulatory and trade interests.

Financial classification: $25m each reported — nonprofit project pledges

Evidence limit / response: No proof of purchased export/antitrust action.

Sources: S43

C073 — EchoStar/Ergen spectrum transaction and ballroom giving [R]

Named parties: Charles Ergen; EchoStar; AT&T; FCC

Post reporting recounts corporate spectrum-sale negotiations, FCC activity and Ergen's reported $25m ballroom commitment.

Financial classification: $25m pledge reported — private project pledge

Evidence limit / response: No quid pro quo adjudicated.

Sources: S43 | S59

C074 — Salesforce ballroom pledges and Army procurement [R]

Named parties: Salesforce; Marc Benioff; Army

Post reported two $1m Salesforce commitments around a competitively bid Army contract with maximum potential value $5.6bn. This is a ceiling, not paid invoices.

Financial classification: $5.6bn ceiling — potential government contract maximum Evidence limit / response: Army said awards followed legal best-value rules.

Sources: S43 | S59

C075 — Ballroom donor anonymity arrangements [R]

Named parties: Trust for National Mall; White House; NPS

Post obtained an agreement designed to protect donor anonymity; the opaque funding structure raises potential conflicts, but donor secrecy alone is not bribery.

Evidence limit / response: Distinguish anonymous vs unknown beneficiaries.

Sources: S44

C077 — Paramount / CBS settlement and merger context [R]

Named parties: Paramount; Trump library foundation; FCC

AP reported a $16m settlement directed to the future presidential library and legal expenses, not a direct personal payout. The FCC's separate review of a merger poses an appearance-of-conflict question, not a proved link.

Financial classification: $16m — settlement to library/fees

Evidence limit / response: Company disputed suit merits; no settlement admission.

Sources: S46 | S67

C078 — Meta/X/ABC litigation settlements and library funding [M]

Named parties: Meta; X; ABC; Trump-related foundations

Reporting and congressional letters identify settlements intended partly for presidential library funding; this pass has not independently audited transfers.

Evidence limit / response: Corporate settlements are legally distinct from personal compensation.

Sources: S47 | S68 | S67

C079 — Presidential library fund accounting [M]

Named parties: Trump-related library funds; corporate plaintiffs; congressional committees

Senators questioned reported differences between media settlement amounts and charity disclosures; a request for accounting is not a proven missing-money crime.

Evidence limit / response: Do not call funds stolen without an audit.

Sources: S47

C080 — Amazon licensing of Melania documentary [R]

Named parties: Amazon MGM; Melania Trump; producer entities

Reuters reported a $40m licensing agreement for the film and series and roughly $35m more in promotion. Film licensing is not equivalent to money personally received by Melania or the president.

Financial classification: $40m license / $35m promotion — corporate content license and marketing costs

Evidence limit / response: Amazon and filmmakers deny favor-seeking motives.

Sources: S48

C081 — Truth API paid early access to presidential posts [M]

Named parties: Trump Media; Truth API; customers; litigants

Yale law clinic and reporting identify a suit challenging private sale of early access to public presidential posts. Assertions in the complaint are allegations.

Evidence limit / response: No final ruling on legality documented in this pass.

Sources: S11 | S65 | S66

C094 — Government funding of private White House ballroom [R]

Named parties: White House; contractors; NPS; private donors

Reporting describes private fundraising alongside evolving construction costs and public spending questions.

Evidence limit / response: Do not equate a construction budget with personal receipts.

Sources: S44 | S43

C173 — White House ballroom $333m in reported pledged support [R]

Named parties: Trump ballroom trust; Apple; Nvidia; Ergen; other donors

The Washington Post reported an internal project contribution spreadsheet showing roughly $333m in private commitments and gifts for the White House ballroom as of late September 2026, including some installment pledges. Donors included firms or executives with federal contracts or other matters before the administration.

Financial classification: $333m reported private donor commitments (not all cash delivered) — private pledges / receipts in internal fundraising spreadsheet, NOT federal contract awards

Evidence limit / response: Timing, donations and government business raise conflict-of-interest questions but do not themselves prove a quid pro quo.

Sources: S111 | S213

C174 — Ballroom donors and contract ceiling overlap [R]

Named parties: Ballroom corporate contributors; federal contractors

Washington Post reported Public Citizen analysis alleging donors received over $50bn in new/expanded federal contract values. Contract value is not cash disbursement and overlaps with C070–C075.

Financial classification: $50bn+ cited — aggregate awarded contract value in advocacy analysis

Evidence limit / response: Not verified payments; project-level grants cannot be causally tied to giving by aggregation alone.

Sources: S119 | S213

C175 — Second-term family-deal oversight preparation [R]

Named parties: Trump sons; Jared Kushner; Congress

Reuters Sept 2026 reported prospective congressional investigations into crypto, 1789 Capital defense financing, Kushner investments and ballroom contributors; anticipated probes are not completed investigations.

Evidence limit / response: Oversight preparation is a research methodology entry, not evidence that any named person committed wrongdoing.

Sources: S113

9. DOGE, appropriations law, official resources and records

DOGE oversight, GAO findings, appropriations law and agency data controls are presented with institutional and individual responsibility separated. Some GAO reviews found violations, whereas others found no violation or incomplete evidence. Both are included.

GAO counted 206 Executive Office DOGE personnel during its review period and reported significant documentation gaps. Its Wall of Receipts review found $110.34 billion in DOGE-reported contract/grant/lease savings with methodological limitations and an $81.1 million overstatement involving leases. These numbers are savings claims and accounting findings, not individual theft totals.

C056 — Bondi and other appointees trades before tariff announcements [R]

Named parties: Pam Bondi; other executive officials

ProPublica documented well-timed securities sales by multiple officials in early 2025. Timing alone does not show possession or misuse of material nonpublic information.

Evidence limit / response: Officials stated they had no insider information or disputed the implication.

Sources: S31 | S32

C057 — Bondi's Trump Media securities liquidation [R]

Named parties: Pam Bondi; Trump Media

The disclosure database shows sales on April 2, 2025, of Trump Media shares valued at $1m–$5m and warrants valued at $250k–$500k. Value ranges are not realized profits.

Financial classification: $1m–$5m shares + $250k–$500k warrants — reporting ranges on securities sales

Evidence limit / response: No evidence herein of unlawful trading or inside information.

Sources: S32 | S72

C164 — DOGE ethics training and financial disclosures—GAO 2026 [P]

Named parties: DOGE personnel; EOP; OGE; agencies

GAO reported 206 DOGE personnel held EOP positions January 2025–January 2026, including 27 special government employees. EOP did not provide requested documentation for training and disclosure compliance; nine agencies reported data for 64 personnel. The resulting gaps prevented GAO from determining overall compliance.

Evidence limit / response: Lack of a supplied record is not evidence that every person failed training or filings.

Sources: S102 | S204

C165 — DOGE access to agency systems without complete safeguards documentation [P]

Named parties: DOGE teams; six agencies; GAO

GAO September 2026 found DOGE teams had access to over 23 systems at four agencies examined but lacked enough records to determine the full scope of access and safety controls.

Evidence limit / response: GAO could not establish full systems access/control picture because several agencies provided incomplete information; do not claim the audit proved data theft.

Sources: S103 | S205

C166 — DOGE claimed savings and audit limitations [P]

Named parties: DOGE; Executive Office; GAO

In August 2026 GAO found serious transparency problems in DOGE Wall of Receipts savings estimates. As of July 7, DOGE reported about $110.34 billion in savings across contracts, grants and leases; GAO could not independently substantiate many claimed savings and found an $81.1 million overstatement in reported lease savings.

Financial classification: $110.34bn DOGE-reported; $81.1m lease-savings overstatement per GAO — reported projected savings / independently identified error; neither cash payment nor fraud finding Evidence limit / response: GAO identified data and calculation defects; this is not a finding that every termination produced zero savings or that individuals stole this money.

C206 — Pete Hegseth and Signal chat IG findings [M]

Named parties: Pete Hegseth; Michael Waltz; Pentagon

A December 2025 DoD inspector-general report, evaluated by FactCheck.org, found Hegseth's Signal communications created operational security risk and raised federal records retention issues.

Evidence limit / response: Do not equate operational security criticism with a criminal conviction; Hegseth defended his handling and claimed exoneration, which the report did not support.

Sources: S165

C207 — Kash Patel FBI aircraft and resource-use oversight [R]

Named parties: Kash Patel; FBI; House and Senate Judiciary ranking members

Congressional minority oversight began July 2026 regarding travel, FBI aircraft, protective resources and expenditures attributed to Patel.

Evidence limit / response: Request for records is not verified waste, fraud, or criminal misconduct; obtain flight logs, approvals, reimbursement rules and Patel's response.

C208 — Institute of Museum and Library Services unlawful impoundment finding [P]

Named parties: Keith Sonderling; IMLS; OMB

GAO June 2025 concluded IMLS unlawfully withheld appropriated funds in violation of Impoundment Control Act following the agency-reduction executive order.

Evidence limit / response: Agency statutory violation established in GAO legal decision; not individual criminal conviction for Sonderling.

Sources: S167 | S215

C209 — FEMA prior-year funding withholdings ICA violations [P]

Named parties: DHS leadership; FEMA; OMB

GAO September 2025 decision concluded FEMA violated the Impoundment Control Act by impermissibly delaying or withholding certain prior-year appropriations.

Evidence limit / response: Findings are account-/program-specific; do not state every FEMA funding pause illegal.

Sources: S168

C210 — 2026 AHRQ grant-funding ICA violation [P]

Named parties: HHS; Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality; OMB

GAO official 2026 rulings index lists an October 7, 2026 violation relating to HHS AHRQ grant funding.

Evidence limit / response: Index supports existence and disposition only; full case-level conclusions and subjects of the withholding require review before stronger claims.

C211 — 2025 NIH grants ICA finding [P]

Named parties: HHS; NIH; OMB

GAO official list identifies an NIH grant funding impoundment violation in its August 2025 decision.

Evidence limit / response: Statutory appropriations issue rather than specific proof of individual fraud; verify program exceptions.

Sources: S170 | S181

C212 — Interior short water-recycling pause did not violate ICA [P]

Named parties: DOI; Bureau of Reclamation; OMB

GAO July 23, 2025 ruled a 30-day Interior Department water recycling funding pause was permissible and NOT an impoundment violation.

Evidence limit / response: Counterexample deliberately retained to prevent the report from calling every spending pause illegal.

Sources: S171

C213 — Acting FEMA leadership appointments lawful under GAO review [P]

Named parties: Cameron Hamilton; David Richardson; DHS

GAO May 28, 2026 concluded Hamilton and Richardson acting-function appointments under DHS succession order did NOT violate the Federal Vacancies Reform Act.

Evidence limit / response: Counterexample: not all acting/temporary leadership appointments were unlawful.

C220 — Epstein Files Transparency Act and legal withholding rules [P]

Named parties: Congress; President Donald Trump; DOJ

Public Law 119-38 was signed on November 19, 2025. It requires broad release of covered unclassified DOJ/FBI Epstein materials and expressly forbids withholding solely for embarrassment, reputational harm, or political sensitivity. The law permits defined exceptions, including victim privacy, child sexual abuse material, temporary active-investigation protection, certain images of injury/death, and properly classified national-security/foreign-policy information, subject to procedural safeguards.

Evidence limitations and response: Neither the Act nor its enactment establishes whether a particular missing document was unlawfully withheld. The user-supplied supplement incorrectly claims national-security grounds can never apply.

Sources: S218 | S220

C221 — DOJ January 2026 Epstein production and disputed remaining inventory [M]

Named parties: DOJ; Todd Blanche; FBI

On January 30, 2026, DOJ announced a combined production of nearly 3.5 million pages, with videos and images. Public reporting recorded Blanche describing approximately six million potentially responsive pages before review. The gross holdings figure and published-page count are not proof that the numerical difference constitutes intentionally destroyed or unlawfully suppressed material. DOJ cited victim protection, duplication, privileges and other exclusion arguments; their validity differs by category.

Evidence limitations and response: No verified page-by-page original-to-public inventory is provided by the supplement. Its assertion of tens of thousands of purposefully purged financial pages is not substantiated.

C222 — Phang v. Blanche — June 2026 preliminary injunction [P]

Named parties: Katie Phang; Todd Blanche in official capacity; DOJ

On June 25, 2026 the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia granted preliminary injunctive relief requiring the Attorney General to produce or explain specified redactions and underlying interview notes, review foreign-language records, and address statutory publication of redaction explanations. The court described conceded statutory noncompliance concerning the timing of the redaction log.

Evidence limitations and response: The preliminary injunction was a civil, procedural ruling, not proof of intentional destruction, a personal perjury conviction, or liability for trafficking.

C223 — Phang v. Blanche — September 2026 detailed follow-up order [P]

Named parties: Katie Phang; Todd Blanche in official capacity; DOJ

On September 16, 2026 the district court accepted several DOJ assertions that specific redactions protected victims and discharged related show-cause items. It required further in-camera documentation for other redactions, rejected DOJ's assertion that underlying handwritten FBI notes could be withheld as merely duplicative of FD-302s, and ordered review of foreign-language material. The court noted DOJ's August 27 Federal Register publication and discharged the narrow redaction-log show-cause question while leaving substantive sufficiency open.

Evidence limitations and response: The court explicitly declined a contempt finding at that stage. Do not describe the order as proving all redactions improper or finding criminal obstruction. DOJ asserted privacy and review-burden reasons; court treated them separately.

C224 — October 2026 House Judiciary Democratic staff report: Trump–Epstein allegations [M]

Named parties: Donald Trump; Jeffrey Epstein; House Judiciary Democratic staff; witnesses

On October 26, 2026 House Judiciary Committee Democratic staff published a report citing FBI records, interviews and accounts involving eleven women, of whom staff say five directly accused Trump of sexual assault in Epstein-related circumstances. Staff allege potentially criminal connections and request further investigation. Trump and the White House deny the allegations.

Evidence limitations and response: Report is authored by minority staff, not a bipartisan or adjudicated committee finding; accusations, witness accounts and staff inferences must remain attributed. The existence of an FBI record does not prove each underlying claim.

Sources: S222 | S223 | S228

C225 — Paolo Zampolli and modeling-network connections in staff report [M]

Named parties: Paolo Zampolli; Donald Trump; Jeffrey Epstein; modeling businesses

The October 26 House Judiciary Democratic staff report reviews modeling and visa networks in 1990s New York, cites victim and witness accounts and FBI documents, and advances a theory linking former administration envoy Paolo Zampolli to Epstein and Trump. It reports an additional 2026 civil allegation against Zampolli.

Evidence limitations and response: No court determination establishes that Trump and Zampolli were criminal co-conspirators in Epstein trafficking. Distinguish dated witness allegations, separate lawsuit claims, and official appointment history.

Sources: S222 | S223

C226 — Todd Blanche July 2025 Maxwell interview and disputed redirection [M]

Named parties: Todd Blanche; Ghislaine Maxwell; House Judiciary Democratic staff

House Judiciary Democratic staff cited published portions of Blanche's July 2025 interview with Maxwell in which Blanche steered discussion away from a survivor identified as Jane, and argued the redirection may have obstructed disclosure. The underlying interview records are publicly available from DOJ.

Evidence limitations and response: A committee staff allegation of potential witness tampering does not establish criminal intent, perjury, an instruction to falsify testimony, or a conviction. The supplement overstates the legal outcome.

Sources: S222 | S224 | S223

C227 — July 2025 DOJ–FBI memo on Epstein investigative records [P]

Named parties: DOJ; FBI; Trump White House

A July 2025 DOJ–FBI memorandum reported no incriminating "client list," no evidence of blackmail of prominent individuals, and no basis found to investigate uncharged third parties. The memo expressed the department's judgment against additional disclosures at that time; later statute and judicial orders altered the disclosure framework.

Evidence limitations and response: The memo did not itself establish a court order legally barring states or foreign authorities from investigating. The supplement offers no authenticated instructions from White House aides authoring the document.

C228 — DOJ Inspector General independent Epstein files audit [P]

Named parties: DOJ Office of Inspector General; DOJ

On April 23, 2026 the DOJ Office of Inspector General announced an audit of compliance with the Epstein Files Transparency Act, focusing on identification, production, redactions, withholdings and post-release concerns.

Evidence limitations and response: Opening an audit is not a completed finding of willful obstruction or individual criminal conduct. Final audit findings, if later published, require separate evaluation.

Sources: S226

C229 — DOJ Federal Register report on Epstein-file redactions [P]

Named parties: DOJ; Associate Attorney General Stanley Woodward; Katie Phang

A DOJ report describing release and withholding categories was published in the Federal Register on August 27, 2026 (91 FR 55356). In September litigation, the court treated the narrowly framed issue of publication as resolved but left open whether the published summary satisfies every statutory substantive redaction-justification requirement.

Evidence limitations and response: Do not describe all redaction logs as permanently absent; equally, notice publication does not conclusively establish that all legally required individual explanations were adequate.

Sources: S227 | S221

C230 — Pam Bondi dismissal and Epstein files controversy [R]

Named parties: Pam Bondi; Donald Trump; DOJ

Reuters reported that President Trump removed Attorney General Pam Bondi on April 2, 2026 after a period of criticism concerning Epstein-file handling and other frustrations including investigations of political adversaries. Trump publicly praised Bondi upon her departure.

Evidence limitations and response: Firing and contemporaneous reporting do not prove the claimed exclusive motive was to suppress Epstein evidence or that Bondi committed a criminal offense.

Supplement document integrity warning

The submitted six-page PDF uses unsourced ledger range names, an unverified UNCLASSIFIED label and unsupported assertions of perjury, criminal conspiracy and systematic evidence destruction. It has not been treated as an official government investigative finding. A claim-by-claim exclusion/correction table accompanies the report.

Appendix A: unresolved leads — not established misconduct

The following are hypotheses, open questions and broad research universes, preserved so no work is lost; they are not proven improprieties and are excluded from substantiated-case chapters.

C014 — Opportunity Zones and connected real estate interests [U]

Original research prompt: Previous dossier links certain connected real-estate holdings to federal Opportunity Zones created in the 2017 tax law, but a full transaction and benefit analysis is missing.

Caution: Merely owning eligible property is not a legal violation.

Missing records: Identify benefited parcels, realized capital-gains tax savings and legislative drafting contacts.

Background references:

C039 — SEC crypto cases broadly dismissed or paused [U]

Original research prompt: Previous original lists a substantial wave of crypto enforcement withdrawals. This pass does not independently count all cases or document statutory reasoning in each.

Caution: Do not claim all firms were connected or favored for donations.

Missing records: Build docket-by-docket comparison table with filed dismissal stipulations and relationships.

Background references: S37

C051 — Powerus interceptor-drone procurement [U]

Original research prompt: Original dossier alleges Trump sons have investment exposure to a drone company associated with an Air Force procurement ceiling. This edition did not inspect the signed procurement award.

Caution: No verified no-bid finding; ceiling does not mean spending.

Missing records: Verify contract ID, fair-open competition, delivery orders, ownership and actual cash outlays.

Background references:

C052 — Kazakhstan tungsten financing and family investors [U]

Original research prompt: Original dossier describes proposed financing and nearby family investment in a Kazakh tungsten venture. Direct signed financing and ownership contracts were not obtained.

Caution: Do not describe as personal disbursement or proven intervention.

Missing records: Verify up to $1.6bn project approval, actual draw, voting control, conflict recusals and negotiations.

Background references:

C076 — Republican committee and campaign spending at Trump properties [U]

Original research prompt: Prior external trackers raise party spending at Trump properties as a second-term profit route; transaction-by-transaction Federal Election Commission data have not been reconciled here.

Caution: Political payment is not inherently prohibited.

Missing records: Compile actual FEC payments by payee and reject duplicate refunds and reimbursements.

Background references:

C083 — Qatar 747 aircraft and U.S. official use [U]

Original research prompt: Original dossier describes a Boeing 747-8 accepted for official use and a disputed ~$400m market value; current pass did not separately inspect title, donor paperwork or retrofit costs.

Caution: Not proven personal gift to Trump.

Missing records: Find DoD acquisition and appraisal documents, constitutional/legal opinions, and title at end of presidency.

Background references:

C084 — UAE advanced chips and foreign-investor overlaps [U]

Original research prompt: Earlier dossier links high-value UAE technology policy to simultaneous foreign investment in Trump-affiliated ventures. This pass did not obtain actual export license records.

Caution: Chronology alone does not show sale of export policy.

Missing records: Identify license numbers, end users, comparative restrictions and documented personal contacts.

Background references: S08S09

C085 — UAE arms notifications [U]

Original research prompt: Earlier dossier reports approximately $1.4bn of 2025 UAE arms notifications; approvals are not delivered weapons or payments into Trump businesses.

Caution: Foreign policy rationales require independent examination.

Missing records: Collect Defense Security Cooperation Agency transmittals and actual delivery schedules.

Background references:

C086 — Qatar defense guarantee [U]

Original research prompt: Earlier dossier identifies the September 2025 Qatar security assurance, which should be analyzed separately from private Qatar development partnerships.

Caution: Not evidence that Qatar bought protection.

Missing records: Collect signed executive order and national-security rationale; check chronology with Doha strike.

Background references: S41

C088 — JBS/Pilgrim's Pride political donations and policy [U]

Original research prompt: Original dossier's supporting trackers allege substantial inaugural giving and relevant beef/market policy. This pass did not obtain the cited FEC receipt and agency decision records.

Caution: Do not infer policy changes bought by donor.

Missing records: Review FEC Form 13, USDA decisions, SEC registration and donor entity identities.

Background references:

C089 — Drug reimbursement donor and delayed rule [U]

Original research prompt: Trackers reference a $5m super PAC donation and subsequent Medicare reimbursement rule delay; no underlying FEC and CMS records reviewed here.

Caution: Evidence insufficient to label exchange corrupt.

Missing records: Retrieve actual donor, regulation docket, effective dates and public comments.

Background references:

C090 — AdvaMed / EPA exemptions and political contribution [U]

Original research prompt: A recent tracker alleges industry donation and subsequent regulatory exemptions; not independently re-verified.

Caution: Keep as lead only.

Missing records: Locate donation records, exemption cases, ex-lobbyist conflicts and comparable applications.

Background references:

C092 — Personal lawsuits and contemplated government settlement claims [U]

Original research prompt: Prior dossier describes other contemplated compensation claims; signed agreements, judicial approval and transfers have not been checked here.

Caution: Never describe requests as money actually paid.

Missing records: Gather each claim number, agency recusal policy and disposition.

Background references:

C093 — Second-term use of prosecutorial discretion for political allies [U]

Original research prompt: Multiple public accounts allege politically connected defendants received discretionary relief, but a blanket claim is not testable without docket list.

Caution: Association with Trump is not exculpatory or incriminating on its own.

Missing records: Create docket-level universe of charges, dismissals, reasons, prosecutors and comparator cases.

Background references: S27

C095 — Florida site and private presidential library foundation [U]

Original research prompt: Reporting raised questions around transfer of valuable land for a privately managed presidential library, including litigation over procedural approval. This pass did not verify property transfer finality.

Caution: No personal criminal conviction from the transfer allegation.

Missing records: Get deeds, board minutes, independent appraisal and litigation status.

Background references:

C098 — Betsy DeVos education-finance and family investment questions [U]

Original research prompt: This item is an additional coverage target, not an independently established finding of corruption or even necessarily a verified transaction.

Caution: Do not publish as an allegation proven against any person.

Missing records: Required verification: Cross-check OGE assets, education policy, recusals and financial exposure.

Appendix C: publication and completeness cautions

• Publication-grade precision: This document contains records of accusations, government actions, court orders and reporting. Its entries do not assert that every named individual committed illegal misconduct.

• The judicial orders in Phang v. Blanche are civil disclosure orders. The House Judiciary Democratic staff report is not a verdict or bipartisan committee determination. The relevant subject denials are documented.

• The supplied six-page supplement is kept solely as unverified research provenance. Its unsupported source identifiers and assertions of perjury, criminal conspiracy and purposeful deletion were not adopted.

• Original Edition 7.0 contains 219 items. Edition 7.1 adds 11 items for 230 total; this is not a crime or wrongdoing count. 43 originally unresolved research leads remain unverified.

• Cutoff October 31, 2026. Further primary record audits and legal review are required before claiming the report is comprehensive or independently certified.
